I am writing to you from the city of London, where I am at present. I am well and hope this letter will find you the same. I have not much news to write at present, but I will write again soon. I am, dear friend, ever your affectionate friend, John Smith.

[illegible]

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or a page from a manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of the 18th or 19th century. The text is arranged in a single column, filling most of the page. There are some corrections or insertions visible, such as a small 'H' and 'H' in the upper right and middle right sections. The text appears to be a personal communication, possibly a letter of introduction or a request, given the context of the surrounding text in the image.

114.
 I have just now received from your letter of the 10th inst. and am glad to hear that you are well. I am well and hope you are the same. I have not much news to write at present. I am still in the same place. I have not yet received your letter of the 15th inst. I am sorry to hear that you are not well. I hope you will soon be better. I am your friend,
 J. H.

I am very sorry - I have been so long in writing this letter to you, but I have been so busy with my work, that I could find no time to do so.
I hope however, that you will excuse me, as I have been so much occupied with my studies, that I have not had time to write more often. I shall try to do so now, and perhaps you may receive it before long.

Your affectionate son,
John Smith

Remembrance to my dear friends of the
for his good thing better than ever, my dear for the dear friends of his, believe me as well as others, at his up to the top of his with a light of his hand at his up to the top
for his good thing better than ever, my dear
of his good thing better than ever, my dear particulars never will till that is all, my dear his good thing better than ever, my dear beginning of his good thing better than ever, my dear at his good thing better than ever, my dear is better than ever, my dear Lump of his good thing better than ever, my dear
good thing better than ever, my dear forming in his good thing better than ever, my dear last of his good thing better than ever, my dear
about his good thing better than ever, my dear I am not in his good thing better than ever, my dear
it is his good thing better than ever, my dear
